

FROM STREET WALK TO GOVERNORSHIP

Success of Ben W. Hooper in Tennessee Elections Recalls His Career.

CALLS IT VICTORY
FOR THE PEOPLE

Senator "Bob" Taylor and "Pattersonism" Defeated by Man Who Rose From Obscurity.

BRISTOL, Tenn., Nov. 15.—The man who will be the next governor of Tennessee was picked up on the streets of the city of Knoxville, as a waif, thirty years ago and is of unknown parentage. He is Ben W. Hooper, Republican fusion candidate, elected over Senator Robert L. Taylor, "Fiddling Bob," by a majority that will approach 20,000, reversing the normal Democratic majority of 25,000.

Hooper was elected by the united Republicans and Carmack Democrats. The late former Senator Edward Ward Carmack was murdered by Duncan B. Cooper, chief adviser of Governor Patterson, and head of his political machine. The Carmack Democrats joined and elected Hooper, as they said, to avenge the death of Carmack.

Victim of "Pattersonism."
They say Carmack was a martyr and was slain by "Pattersonism," which figured as the chief issue in the late gubernatorial campaign, even after Governor Patterson had thrown up his nomination and Bob Taylor had entered the fight in an effort to reunite the Democratic factions, rent by the Carmack killing, and Patterson's bold and defiant pardoning of Duncan B. Cooper almost before the ink was dry on the decision of the supreme court to the effect that he was guilty of murder. Patterson tried to defeat the same court for re-election, but the regular Democratic ticket, but the Republican Independent Democratic coalition re-elected the old court by a majority of 60,000, the result being construed as a rebuke to Patterson, who shortly thereafter retired from the race for governor. Ben W. Hooper says his election, not a Republican victory, not a Democratic victory, but a victory for good government, the highest hope is to give the State a business-like administration, free it from the political turmoil that has enveloped the State before and since the murder of Carmack, and restore "law and order."

Becomes "Patterson's Bob."
In the late campaign Bob Taylor was pictured as "Patterson's Bob," instead of "Our Bob," a title he bore for years. They held him up as sanctioning everything Patterson had done, and declared that, though Patterson had retired personally, the issue was "Pattersonism." Bob Taylor dined, danced, and sang songs in an effort to pour oil on the troubled waters, but to no avail. Hooper was elected by almost the normal Democratic majority, though the State has not had a Republican governor in years. Tennessee is still as strongly Democratic as ever. Hooper was and is a Republican.

The governor-elect has a career that is being held up to the youths of the country. He was placed in St. John's Orphanage at Knoxville at the age of ten, and there kept until Dr. L. W. Hooper, of Newport, Tenn., adopted him. At twenty-one he was graduated from Carson and Newman College, and was a practicing attorney. A few years later finds him Assistant United States district attorney.

He is now thirty-eight years old, and one of the wealthiest men in the State, and is prominent in church circles. He is a man of great grace of manner and charm of speech, though not an orator. His wife is a graduate of Virginia Institute, in Bristol, and a highly cultured woman—is a daughter of one of the wealthiest families in Cocke county, Tenn. They have two children.

Campaign Bares Truth.
Who is this man Hooper? From whence does he come? These were among the questions asked during the last campaign and always with a wink and a knowing smile. Opposition newspapers used innuendo and insinuations in advertising to his ancestry. It was heralded in all kinds of veiled ways. He answered: "The fact that I was a waif is not an issue in this campaign. It is the cause I represent, and the people I champion." This attack proved one of the serious blunders of the campaign for it made votes everywhere for Hooper.

Last year the orphanage at Knoxville, which rescued young Hooper from the street, was burned to the ground. The next day all were sad and depressed over the loss. The mail was opened and there was a check for $10,000 from Ben Hooper, to be used toward replacing the burned buildings.

Hooper was a captain in the Fourth Tennessee regiment in the Spanish-American war. He has made heavy investments in Oklahoma real estate, which have brought him a large share of his fortune.

The new governor will be inaugurated early in January, and it is confidently believed that his inauguration will mark the beginning of an era of peace and rest from factional politics in Tennessee.

CHURCH CONTINUES NATAL CELEBRATION

Services commemorative of the 130th anniversary of the West Presbyterian Church will be continued this evening, when a public reception will be held in the chapel. The services will be music, which will be followed by addresses by Dr. Wallace Radcliffe and Dr. Charles L. Tate.

Last night the services were given up to history and reminiscences of the church. The services will close Thursday evening with an organ recital by G. Thompson Williams.

FLORIDA WOMEN GATHER AT OCALA

OCALA, Fla., Nov. 15.—Ocala is today teeming with women from all over the State, who have come here to attend the annual convention of the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs.

Following a welcoming demonstration tonight the business sessions of the convention will continue until Friday. Foremost on the list of speakers are Mrs. Philip N. Moore, of St. Louis, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and J. Horace McFarlane, president of the American Civic Association.

FARMERS IN PLAN TO PROTECT PRICES

California Division of Co-operative
Union Will Be In Session
Three Days.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Nov. 15.—The second annual convention of the California division of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America convened in this city today and will remain in session for three days. Two of the important features of the convention will be the address by National President Charles Barrett and Senator T. G. Brooks of Tennessee. These men will speak on the development of the organization throughout the country and plans for the furthering of the interests of the American farmer.

It is the purpose of the Farmers' Association to protect their interests and see that prices are not manipulated by those having no interest in the raising of fruits.

RECIPROCITY FIGHT TO BOTHER BRIDES

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—Wedding presents and trousseaux from America for women about to marry foreigners in Germany will no longer be admitted duty free, according to a decree of the ministry of interior.

The privilege had existed since 1871, and its abrupt abolishment is causing much comment. "Lack of reciprocity" on the part of the United States is given as the reason for the withdrawal of the privilege. It is hinted that the action presages the abolishment of other reciprocal relations.

LECTURE AT Y. M. C. A.
"The Starry Heavens" will be the subject of the lecture which Prof. Adolph Richards, formerly of the United States Observatory, will deliver tonight at the Y. M. C. A. assembly hall. Women as well as men are invited to attend, and no admission will be charged.

TWO CONFERENCES DISCUSS CHARITY

Pennsylvania and New York
Organizations In Session Today.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 15.—The New York State Conference of Charities and Correction met in this city today for what promises to be the most important annual meeting ever held by the organization. The sessions will continue over Wednesday, and Thursday will be devoted to the discussion of a wide variety of topics.

The congestion of population and the suppression of the "white slave" traffic are to be given special attention. Tuberculosis relief, alcoholism and the care of the inebriate, social service work in hospitals and among the insane, widows and deserted wives, and the conservation of eyesight are other matters that will be considered by the conference.

Meet in Pennsylvania Also.
ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 15.—The second annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Conference of Charities and Correction, which opens here this evening for a session of three days, has brought together several hundred of the State's best known philanthropists, social workers and officials of charitable and correctional institutions.

The attendance promises to be considerably larger than at the meeting held in Harrisburg a year ago. Industrial education and child labor, relief work of public and private agencies, the care of the feeble-minded, infant mortality and its prevention are among the important subjects to be discussed.

The president of the conference is P. H. Nibbecker, superintendent of the Boys' House of Refuge at Glen Mills.

RED RIVER MEN IN CONVENTION

SHERMAN, Texas, Nov. 15.—The Red River Improvement Association, which has for its object the securing of Federal appropriations to make navigable the Red river and its principal tributaries in Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma, met in annual convention today.

Congressman Morris Sheppard, as president, called the gathering to order and will preside over the two days' session.

D. A. R. CONVENTION ON IN ORANGEBURG

ORANGEBURG, S. C., Nov. 15.—Preparations of the most complete and elaborate character have been made for the entertainment of the many distinguished women who assembled here today for the annual convention of the South Carolina division of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The convention meets as the guest of Moultrie chapter of Orangeburg. The sessions will continue three days, with the State regent, Mrs. F. Louise Mayes, of Greenville, presiding.

16oz. Net

EVERY pound print of Clover Hill
Butter weighs 16
ounces net—16 ounces of butter—not 16
ounces of butter and package.

If you've got a one-pound print of any other butter that a misunderstanding may have led you into using, put it on the scales, see how much it weighs. If it weighs 16 ounces you're simply lucky, because the "one-pound" prints of many butters weigh anywhere from 14 to 15 or 15 1-2 ounces. Of course, when you buy them you pay for 16 ounces. The 2 or 3 cents you "save" on those butters are not saved. You don't get the quantity you think you are getting, to say nothing about quality.

Every pound of Clover Hill Butter is a full net-weight pound and it's a full pound of the best creamery butter that's ever been produced—the sweetest, cleanest, purest, freshest butter the world has ever known. It's solid butter. In Clover Hill you get all you pay for.

Clover Hill Butter is made from pure cream separated from pure, whole, pasteurized milk in our own airy, sunny, modern creameries. Never a drop of hand-separated, farm-separated cream, separated under unknown conditions, enters into the making of Clover Hill Butter.

Clover Hill organization, Clover Hill distribution, and Clover Hill responsibility enable us to deliver this fresh, pure, full-weight, country-made butter, in our own fast express refrigerator cars, within 3 to 5 days from the time it leaves the churn.

There's a pound awaiting you at your grocer's. Order it today, and you'll know the utmost in butter quality.

STARTS DIRT LIKE MAGIC

because it contains a dirt-starting ingredient which loosens the dirt quickly, cleanses the fabric with little rubbing, and washes your clothes clean without washing them out.
Because of this dirt-starting feature, Sunny Monday Laundry Soap will save your time and spare your back.

Washes in any Kind of Water

Hot or cold, hard or soft, luke-warm or boiling waters all look alike to Sunny Monday, and it will do equally good work in each. Moreover, it does not waste away like a rosin soap, and its dirt-starting ingredients remain to the last wafer of the cake.

If you're an economical woman—if you're particular about the appearance of your clothes—you should ask your grocer for Sunny Monday and give it a good honest trial.
